(By C. H. Stuart)

Professor Orthodox Anonymous may have recently packed his snowman's carpet bag and vanished over ether waves for the Sargasso sea of forgotten men, but a more practical editorialist claiming kinship as General Orthodox Babel is staking some provincial boards and staging no trifling circus in Alberta's staid assembly chamber.

Much has been written about this year's financial program of the Alberta regime, but much more is being said, believe it or not, flitting even the charge of over repetition a correspondent from the press gallery cannot get far away from the estimated cost of more than $1,000,000 for the reason that it's about the only definite thing that's made an impression in the legislature so far this session, and moreover, because as a sort of Niagara over which the government seems headed for a final desperate plunge.

No trifling observer can deny the serious fact that the administration barred assembly to be starting badly at the session and won't stand a drop over the falls.

Nor can any amount of party caucus secrecy, and defensive Sabbath lectures by Premier Aberhart conceal the fact that his leadership has been a strain, and even his former most ardent followers admit that only a swift and courageous change of course can save the government from disaster. The Alberta budget by its stretch of the imagination can be termed any reflection of social credit. A. Blain, governor of the province, Ribstone, who openly denounced in the house recently the premier's lack of policy and proposed state loan to the coronation in London, and revolted in the assembly chamber during the budget debate last week, declaring he was daily against the premier's gigantic taxidromes, and anything had been done to see if social credit might be put into gear. He argued in effect that not an atom of social credit could be found in the budget with a microscope. It may be said with unbecoming accuracy that more than 20 backbenchers in government ranks agree heartily with Albert Blain, they ex-Norburns.

Blain, given a free rein in a previous session's summary that his speech was resolved to force the premier and cabinet to bring down social credit legislation this session. The struggle has by no means lessened its activities; rather has it increased pressure and perfected plans. Draft of a social credit bill incorporating Douglas theories was submitted to the cabinet and caucus early in the week, before the unexpected death of Lieutenant Governor R. C. H. Pittman on Wednesday necessitated adjournment of the house until Tuesday, March 23, and a virtual ultimatum issued to Mr. Aberhart that the cabinet would be blocked if insurgent demands were not met. Probably it is generally known that the budget must be passed before the beginning of a new fiscal year on April first.

It will be noted that the premier was placed in a tight spot. No good purpose could be served by any further attempt to suppress the fact that among the majority of his backbenchers Mr. Aberhart's prestige as a party leader has disintegrated alarmingly in the last month or so. Obviously his long sequestered career as a high school instructor, and the comparative security of lecture platforms and pulpits offered inadequate training for the sterner role of combative politics and with only a mere handful of half a dozen members facing him in opposition, defensive measures from government ranks had to come from private members and two or three subalterns in the cabinet. Now it is said that he has maintained no aggressive leadership in the party caucus, with outspoken criticism for taking shape.

Least a mistaken impression be given by these remarks, nor correspondent hastens to add that no effort is being made to the "gripping" group. In his party to oust Mr. Aberhart as premier. Had there been any other man gunning for the leadership, or any private members casting envious eyes upon cabinet jobs, the grand bust up would have come days ago. Insurgent "committees" who talk rather candidly of their plans, insist they merely want social credit, and at least given a trial, that they have taken it upon themselves as a public duty to draft a program for Mr. Aberhart, since he apparently had none of

"Silent Barriers" is Splendid Canadian Film

Let some entertain, hopes they would not be affected by these blanketed powers, which might be enlarged at any time by cabinet orders. The definition of "community" has been laid out in farm, ranch, forest, stream, mine, oilfield or quarry production, or activities wholly or in part manufacturing within the province. The term "marketing" also is ample and complete, meaning "buying, selling, shipping for sale or offering for sale." At board for all commodities, both manufactured and unmanufactured, and the minimum and maximum included under the act are provision for penalties to enforce government orders.

Along the same line but voting definite powers to the minister of trade and industry to control and supervise trade, industries and the national resources of the province, is amending bill 36, briefly its numerous sections provide that the minister

"Its maximum and minimum prices applicable to the sale of any goods, wares or merchandise, or any product of agriculture, the mine, or any crude petroleum or derivative thereof, produced in Alberta, whether sold by wholesale, retail or otherwise; and empowers the minister and his appointees to hold inquiries as to the circumstances under which any goods, wares or merchandise are manufactured, processed, supplied, distributed or sold, by retail, or as to the circumstances of any trade or industry."

Exhausting with these two far-reaching commercial measures is the bill to license all those engaged in business and importing of goods, "personal" trade to licensing, and was branded by Liberal opposition speakers during the budget last week as "the most iniquitous piece of legislation ever introduced in a British house, giving more power to a minister than ever Mussolini, Hitler or Stalin dreamed of in their wildest moments."

QUOTATION FOR TODAY

MAYNARD'S little, were his judgment true: Nature is cruel, and her wants are few: These few have, answered, bring sincere delights; But men create themselves new appetites.

—Edward Young.

As is now generally known Strathmore's entry in the Regional Festival held in Calgary last week, was rather severely scored by the adjudicator, Mr. de Varian. We may be, some of us, living in some what of a "Fool's Paradise" for we are still of the opinion that our entry was deserving of more kindly remarks than were given. Even two of the favorable comments were so quietly spoken, that many failed to hear them. We were not trying badly, far be it. We were told our errors, we admit them, and they were grievous ones, he club as a whole has learned a lot by the mistakes made, and we hope to profit by this disappointing experience. We are "beat but not broken" and plan "to rise on stepping stones of our dead selves (and mistakes) to our goal achievement."

Other entries came in for severe criticism as hard as anything met our ears to Strathmore but we are confident our comments to our own friends.

We of the club, not in the caste, desire express to the director and players our very sincere appreciation for the creditable presentation they made for the festival and in so doing, our sincere thanks, and we repeat, we felt it deserving of more favorable comment.

Here is a toast— Their success in next year's Festival.

Aberhart's Term Soon to End?

Tumults are raging in the Alberta Legislature. There are history making hours and just what lies ahead is difficult to foresee. There is a strong group among the members who are not willing to accept unquestioningly the dictate of the Premier. They are to be commended.

We predict that Premier Aberhart will have to relinquish the office of first minister by the end of the Session, probably before. It is significant that in the vote to adjourn debate two of the Cabinet Ministers were absent.

CANADIAN LEGION OFFICERS FOR 1937-38

A well attended meeting of the Strathmore Branch Canadian Legion B. E. S. L. was held on Tuesday, March 19th, when the main business was the election of officers for the ensuing year. Patterson, Executive Committee: S. Guan, H. McGregor, R. E. Gray, and J. Swanson. Entertainment Committee W. L. McKenzie, S. H. Crowther, A. W. Smith, J. S. Brock, J. S. Carter and W. Tew. Visiting Sick Committee, A. L. Smart, J. S. Carter and J. A. Drummond.

THE PEOPLE'S LEAGUE

The Southern Alberta executive of the People's League has decided to meet in Calgary the first and third Tuesday of each month to discuss matters of business and any suggestions from the membership.

While realizing that spring work and other activity may prevent some of the rural members from attending all meetings, the new felt that regular dates will allow some of the country members to be present throughout the year.

Proposals for one of the strongest agricultural policies yet drafted for any Canadian province will presently be forwarded groups of the People's League of Alberta for study. It was announced last week.

EASTER MORN

Easter Morn! Resurrection Morn! The most significant, vital and the greatest world changing event in the history of mankind, taking precedence in importance over Christmas itself. There could have been the birth of the Messiah but had there been no Resurrection following the crucifixion, the world would have been indeed, with out hope.

Resurrection, the rebirth of nature, the hope of renewed life in all the various forms. With a feeling of joy we hail the coming of spring, with its promise, of new life and desires realized. We hope for the dawn of a world with a larger outlook freed from the immensity of war, and the teachings of The Master, fulfilled.

BAINTREE

BAINTREE COUPLE CELEBRATE THEIR SILVER WEDDING

On the evening of March 24th, the interior of the Tudor Hall presented an animated appearance when approximately two hundred people assembled to honor Mr. and Mrs. Charles County, on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

Dancing started at 9:30 and following a midnight supper, Mr. and Mrs. County were presented with a number of beautiful gifts. These consisted of a Westminster Chimes clock from the residents of Baintree and Nightingale, a case of silverware from Tudor and Lockwood friends, and silverware from Mr. and Mrs. John Koyton, all being handed over by Mr. T. Longbotham. During the course of his remarks that gentleman paid a warm tribute to Mrs. and Mr. County for their many contributions to the welfare of the district, and on behalf of a host of friends wished them many more years of happiness together. The prolonged applause which greeted the speaker and the happy couple, showed in no uncertain manner that the sentiments expressed by Mr. Longbotham had struck a responsive chord in the hearts of many.

Mr. and Mrs. County expressed their gratitude in suitable terms.

With Mrs. Bert Horton at the piano the whole gathering arose to sing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Mr. Jim Bonnie of Tudor carried out the duties of Master of Ceremonies in his usual capable manner. The generous hospitality of the Tudor folks and the fine music of the local orchestra were other important features of a most enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. County were married in Denver, Colorado, 25 years ago. Immediately after the ceremony they came direct to the district in which they now reside, and through all the years have been first class citizens and the kindest of neighbors.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strange
Director, Research Department,
Scarle Grain Company, Ltd.

These should be the watchwords for Western Canadian farmers, for all who are their friends, and who are, therefore, keenly interested in the farmers' welfare.

Very definite, and it would seem, successful efforts are being made not only to maintain, but to improve wheat quality, but how about reducing costs of production? Unfortunately very little in this direction is being done, yet the reduction of costs is just as important as the improvement of quality—can costs be reduced, or at all events stopped from rising still further?

It will not be easy, but I for one believe it can be done, even though costs of production actually are now rising as revealed by the Scarle Index which keeps account, month by month, of the costs of the United States farmer.

More will be said in later articles about methods which might be adopted to reduce costs. In the meantime anything that will increase the yield per acre will definitely help. The use of Leysox and Cerean for treatment against smut and root rot diseases, also the use of fertilizer, which increases yield and brings about earlier maturity, are splendid ways of reducing costs of production.

Polluting factors have tended to raise prices. Japan, Mexico and Greece purchase Argentine wheat—Italy purchases still more Argentine and Romanian wheat—Germany and Great Britain continue to buy Argentine, Turkish, Australian, Indian, Yugoslavian and Canadian wheat—Spain purchases wheat—inclement weather jeopardizes crop prospects in India—grasshoppers causing concern in India—French farms falling in value.

Polluting factors have tended to lower prices: First official Italian rice estimate larger than year ago—German bakers must put seven percent corn meal in all wheat bread—Worth

FISH AND FISHERIES

Canadian sea foods are rich in iodine, which is one of the reasons why they are so valuable from the health standpoint.

Whitefish are the most valuable of

Canada's inland or freshwater fishes

from the standpoint of marketed value of annual catch. They are very tasty fish, too.
